4. Don't carry office work along. Try to avoid bringing the heavy workload home. Leave your work stress back at the office and carry only a contented smile to embrace your child at home.
5. Make time for yourself. Parents always put their kids first, but there's nothing wrong with giving yourself some time off. Go on that long overdue date with your partner or on a fun night out with your friends. (<http://www.sheknows.com/parenting/articles/1108437/parenting-goals-you-should-set-for-the-new-year>).

SISC plays Santa to PoUCh

More than a hundred PoUCh (Poor Urban Children) beneficiaries received holiday cheers during the Save A PoUCh Christmas Party held last December 10, 2019 at Luxembourg Hall. The party is SISC's yearly commitment to the beneficiaries so they will have a feel of the season of love and sharing. In this simple but meaningful activity, the poor urban children can continue to hope no matter how dire circumstances can be.

The school would like to thank the following PoUCh benefactors for making the meaningful event possible:

Katrina Vaz
Rieko Butaya

Tiffany Sawaki
Matthew Cabiles

Marie Vie F. Suarez
