Student leaders host virtual town hall meeting

The Southville International School and Colleges (SISC) class officers held their first-ever virtual town hall meeting last December 1, 2020 on the "Roles and Responsibilities of Class Council Officers during Virtual Online Learning and Teaching (VOLT) Classes." A town hall meeting is a way for leaders to meet with constituents and hear their opinions on issues that affect them.

The student leaders decided to host the online event so their peers could voice their ideas and concerns about online schooling which could be passed on to the school administration. There were mostly commendations for the VOLT Program from the thirty-two participants. An open forum followed where the students voiced anything that was on their minds about the school.

The Online Workshop for Leadership (OWL) was also launched in the event focusing on leadership skills and strategies for leading even from home.

School counselors ready to support students during pandemic

In a time like this, school counselors play a crucial role in helping students maintain perspective while providing methods of coping and continuing emotional and mental wellness. SISC has adapted remote technologies and developed new approaches to provide appropriate care, manage stress and create a safe space for those who need it.

Below are the assigned counselors per level who students can contact for support:

More SISC alumni pass medical board exam

Two more alumnae of SISC hurdled the 2020 Physician Licensure Exam. Raphaella Paula Sacdalan and Beatrice Louee Antonio joined the other newly minted medical practitioners who grew up in Southville namely Nathan Batumbacal, Marc Jerard Juane, Abbey Geraldine Matibag, Chelsea Colleen Paris who placed 10th overall in the board exam, Elyssa Hillary Solomon, Ian Winston Dale Uy and Francyn Rossi Yangson. They are welcome additions to the ranks of healthcare frontliners in the current health crisis.

Institutional Survey leads to improvement

SISC is a firm believer that educating a child is a collaborative effort between the home and the school. Just like you, SISC wants what is best for your child in terms of growing in knowledge and in values. We value parent comments and suggestions that improve the learning experiences of a child.

It is in view of our shared goal that SISC is conducting the Institutional Survey for parents. Please answer the Institutional Survey Form for Parents and students linked to this bulletin so the school will know how it is doing and what more it can do to help your children achieve their potentials and become movers of society. Together, we can make a difference.
